Employee's Withholding Certificate

Complete Form W-4 so that your employer can withhold the correct federal income tax from your pay.

Give Form W-4 to your employer.

Your withholding is subject to review by the IRS.

Step 1: Enter Personal Information	(a) First name and middle initial	Last name	(b) Social security number
	Address		Does your name match the name on your social security card? If not, to ensure you get credit for your earnings, contact SSA at 800-772-1213 or go to www.ssa.gov .
	City or town, state, and ZIP code
	(c) <input type="checkbox"/> Single or Married filing separately <input type="checkbox"/> Married filing jointly or Qualifying surviving spouse <input type="checkbox"/> Head of household (Check only if you're unmarried and pay more than half the costs of keeping up a home for yourself and a qualifying individual.)

Complete Steps 2–4 ONLY if they apply to you; otherwise, skip to Step 5. See page 2 for more information on each step, who can claim exemption from withholding, and when to use the estimator at www.irs.gov/W4App.

Step 2: Complete this step if you (1) hold more than one job at a time, or (2) are married filing jointly and your spouse also works. The correct amount of withholding depends on income earned from all of these jobs.

Multiple Jobs or Spouse Works Do only one of the following.

(a) Use the estimator at www.irs.gov/W4App for most accurate withholding for this step (and Steps 3–4). If you or your spouse have self-employment income, use this option; or

(b) Use the Multiple Jobs Worksheet on page 3 and enter the result in Step 4(c) below; or

(c) If there are only two jobs total, you may check this box. Do the same on Form W-4 for the other job. This option is generally more accurate than (b) if pay at the lower paying job is more than half of the pay at the higher paying job. Otherwise, (b) is more accurate

Complete Steps 3–4(b) on Form W-4 for only ONE of these jobs. Leave those steps blank for the other jobs. (Your withholding will be most accurate if you complete Steps 3–4(b) on the Form W-4 for the highest paying job.)

Step 3: Claim Dependent and Other Credits	If your total income will be $200,000 or less ($400,000 or less if married filing jointly):
	Multiply the number of qualifying children under age 17 by $2,000 $ _____
	Multiply the number of other dependents by $500..... $ _____
Add the amounts above for qualifying children and other dependents. You may add to this the amount of any other credits. Enter the total here			3 $
Step 4 (optional): Other Adjustments	(a) Other income (not from jobs). If you want tax withheld for other income you expect this year that won't have withholding, enter the amount of other income here. This may include interest, dividends, and retirement income		4(a) $
	(b) Deductions. If you expect to claim deductions other than the standard deduction and want to reduce your withholding, use the Deductions Worksheet on page 3 and enter the result here		4(b) $
	(c) Extra withholding. Enter any additional tax you want withheld each pay period . .		4(c) $

Step 5: Sign Here Under penalties of perjury, I declare that this certificate, to the best of my knowledge and belief, is true, correct, and complete.

Future Developments

For the latest information about developments related to Form W-4, such as legislation enacted after it was published, go to www.irs.gov/FormW4.

Purpose of Form

Complete Form W-4 so that your employer can withhold the correct federal income tax from your pay. If too little is withheld, you will generally owe tax when you file your tax return and may owe a penalty. If too much is withheld, you will generally be due a refund. Complete a new Form W-4 when changes to your personal or financial situation would change the entries on the form. For more information on withholding and when you must furnish a new Form W-4, see Pub. 505, Tax Withholding and Estimated Tax.

Exemption from withholding. You may claim exemption from withholding for 2024 if you meet both of the following conditions: you had no federal income tax liability in 2023 and you expect to have no federal income tax liability in 2024. You had no federal income tax liability in 2023 if (1) your total tax on line 24 on your 2023 Form 1040 or 1040-SR is zero (or less than the sum of lines 27, 28, and 29), or (2) you were not required to file a return because your income was below the filing threshold for your correct filing status. If you claim exemption, you will have no income tax withheld from your paycheck and may owe taxes and penalties when you file your 2024 tax return. To claim exemption from withholding, certify that you meet both of the conditions above by writing "Exempt" on Form W-4 in the space below Step 4(c). Then, complete Steps 1(a), 1(b), and 5. Do not complete any other steps. You will need to submit a new Form W-4 by February 15, 2025.

Your privacy. Steps 2(c) and 4(a) ask for information regarding income you received from sources other than the job associated with this Form W-4. If you have concerns with providing the information asked for in Step 2(c), you may choose Step 2(b) as an alternative; if you have concerns with providing the information asked for in Step 4(a), you may enter an additional amount you want withheld per pay period in Step 4(c) as an alternative.

When to use the estimator. Consider using the estimator at www.irs.gov/W4App if you:

1. Expect to work only part of the year;
2. Receive dividends, capital gains, social security, bonuses, or business income, or are subject to the Additional Medicare Tax or Net Investment Income Tax; or
3. Prefer the most accurate withholding for multiple job situations.

Self-employment. Generally, you will owe both income and self-employment taxes on any self-employment income you receive separate from the wages you receive as an employee. If you want to pay these taxes through withholding from your wages, use the estimator at www.irs.gov/W4App to figure the amount to have withheld.

Nonresident alien. If you're a nonresident alien, see Notice 1392, Supplemental Form W-4 Instructions for Nonresident Aliens, before completing this form.

Specific Instructions

Step 1(c). Check your anticipated filing status. This will determine the standard deduction and tax rates used to compute your withholding.

Step 2. Use this step if you (1) have more than one job at the same time, or (2) are married filing jointly and you and your spouse both work.

Option (a) most accurately calculates the additional tax you need to have withheld, while option (b) does so with a little less accuracy.

Instead, if you (and your spouse) have a total of only two jobs, you may check the box in option (c). The box must also be checked on the Form W-4 for the other job. If the box is checked, the standard deduction and tax brackets will be cut in half for each job to calculate withholding. This option is accurate for jobs with similar pay; otherwise, more tax than necessary may be withheld, and this extra amount will be larger the greater the difference in pay is between the two jobs.

Multiple jobs. Complete Steps 3 through 4(b) on only one Form W-4. Withholding will be most accurate if you do this on the Form W-4 for the highest paying job.

Step 3. This step provides instructions for determining the amount of the child tax credit and the credit for other dependents that you may be able to claim when you file your tax return. To qualify for the child tax credit, the child must be under age 17 as of December 31, must be your dependent who generally lives with you for more than half the year, and must have the required social security number. You may be able to claim a credit for other dependents for whom a child tax credit can't be claimed, such as an older child or a qualifying relative. For additional eligibility requirements for these credits, see Pub. 501, Dependents, Standard Deduction, and Filing Information. You can also include other tax credits for which you are eligible in this step, such as the foreign tax credit and the education tax credits. To do so, add an estimate of the amount for the year to your credits for dependents and enter the total amount in Step 3. Including these credits will increase your paycheck and reduce the amount of any refund you may receive when you file your tax return.

Step 4 (optional).

Step 4(a). Enter in this step the total of your other estimated income for the year, if any. You shouldn't include income from any jobs or self-employment. If you complete Step 4(a), you likely won't have to make estimated tax payments for that income. If you prefer to pay estimated tax rather than having tax on other income withheld from your paycheck, see Form 1040-ES, Estimated Tax for Individuals.

Step 4(b). Enter in this step the amount from the Deductions Worksheet, line 5, if you expect to claim deductions other than the basic standard deduction on your 2024 tax return and want to reduce your withholding to account for these deductions. This includes both itemized deductions and other deductions such as for student loan interest and IRAs.

Step 4(c). Enter in this step any additional tax you want withheld from your pay each pay period, including any amounts from the Multiple Jobs Worksheet, line 4. Entering an amount here will reduce your paycheck and will either increase your refund or reduce any amount of tax that you owe.

Step 2(b)—Multiple Jobs Worksheet (Keep for your records.)

If you choose the option in Step 2(b) on Form W-4, complete this worksheet (which calculates the total extra tax for all jobs) on only ONE Form W-4. Withholding will be most accurate if you complete the worksheet and enter the result on the Form W-4 for the highest paying job. To be accurate, submit a new Form W-4 for all other jobs if you have not updated your withholding since 2019.

Note: If more than one job has annual wages of more than $120,000 or there are more than three jobs, see Pub. 505 for additional tables; or, you can use the online withholding estimator at www.irs.gov/W4App.

- 1 Two jobs. If you have two jobs or you're married filing jointly and you and your spouse each have one job, find the amount from the appropriate table on page 4. Using the "Higher Paying Job" row and the "Lower Paying Job" column, find the value at the intersection of the two household salaries and enter that value on line 1. Then, skip to line 3. 1 $
2 Three jobs. If you and/or your spouse have three jobs at the same time, complete lines 2a, 2b, and 2c below. Otherwise, skip to line 3.
a Find the amount from the appropriate table on page 4 using the annual wages from the highest paying job in the "Higher Paying Job" row and the annual wages for your next highest paying job in the "Lower Paying Job" column. Find the value at the intersection of the two household salaries and enter that value on line 2a. 2a $
b Add the annual wages of the two highest paying jobs from line 2a together and use the total as the wages in the "Higher Paying Job" row and use the annual wages for your third job in the "Lower Paying Job" column to find the amount from the appropriate table on page 4 and enter this amount on line 2b. 2b $
c Add the amounts from lines 2a and 2b and enter the result on line 2c. 2c $
3 Enter the number of pay periods per year for the highest paying job. For example, if that job pays weekly, enter 52; if it pays every other week, enter 26; if it pays monthly, enter 12, etc. 3
4 Divide the annual amount on line 1 or line 2c by the number of pay periods on line 3. Enter this amount here and in Step 4(c) of Form W-4 for the highest paying job (along with any other additional amount you want withheld). 4 $

Step 4(b)—Deductions Worksheet (Keep for your records.)

- 1 Enter an estimate of your 2024 itemized deductions (from Schedule A (Form 1040)). Such deductions may include qualifying home mortgage interest, charitable contributions, state and local taxes (up to $10,000), and medical expenses in excess of 7.5% of your income. 1 $
2 Enter: $21,900 if you're head of household, $29,200 if you're married filing jointly or a qualifying surviving spouse, $14,600 if you're single or married filing separately. 2 $
3 If line 1 is greater than line 2, subtract line 2 from line 1 and enter the result here. If line 2 is greater than line 1, enter "-0-". 3 $
4 Enter an estimate of your student loan interest, deductible IRA contributions, and certain other adjustments (from Part II of Schedule 1 (Form 1040)). See Pub. 505 for more information. 4 $
5 Add lines 3 and 4. Enter the result here and in Step 4(b) of Form W-4. 5 $

PROCEDURES and RESPONSIBILITIES

Part of the intent of this section is to identify typical offenses or behavior patterns for which disciplinary actions are taken. This is necessary in order to provide consistent treatment of all employees and so that the rights of some employees will not be violated by other employees.

Although this list is not an all-inclusive, the following are examples of deficiencies or offenses for which progressive disciplinary actions may be appropriate and which may result in discharge.

The following occurrences are cause for immediate discharge without notice or without pay in lieu of notice. Since a complete list of specific offenses is impossible, discharge is not limited to the situations described below.

- Absence without notification or reasonable cause for failure to notify. Such absences for three consecutive workdays or shifts require no further follow-up prior to termination.

- Behavior that interferes with the operation of the University or any part thereof.
- Any other action, behavior, or communication that, as perceived by University officials, adversely affects the University or any sub-unit thereof.

Attendance and Absence

Employee attendance is of vital concern to the University. An employee is expected to report to work on time daily and to remain on the job throughout his/her regular work hours. Excessive tardiness or unscheduled absences can result in disciplinary action. If an employee has to be absent from work or has an urgent reason for leaving, he/she should seek prior approval from his/her supervisor or administrative head. Generally, progressive disciplinary action will be due anytime an employee exceeds three (3) occurrences of unexcused absences in a rolling six month period.

As close to the regular starting time as possible, an employee must call his/her supervisor or department head if he/she is going to be absent without prior approval. An employee is expected to explain the reason for his/her absence and indicate the date he/she expects to return to work. Employees with poor attendance records may be asked to provide a doctor's certificate to justify an absence due to illness or injury. Any employee who does not report to work for three (3) consecutive days and does not provide proper notification to Delta State University is considered to have resigned voluntarily. An employee is expected to report to work on time daily and to remain on the job throughout your regular work hours. If you have to be absent from work or have an urgent reason for leaving, you must have prior permission from your supervisor or administrative head.

Responsibility of All Employees

University employees are expected to serve the University as they would any other efficient and progressive organization. The image of the University is presented by the words and deeds of the individual employees who deal with students, colleagues, or guests. Employees are expected to deal with the public and co-workers in a courteous, tactful, and cooperative manner.

If corrective action is necessary, the progressive disciplinary steps outlined below will normally be followed. The nature or severity of the offense will determine the first step.

Step I. Documented Oral Warning. Once an employee performance/conduct problem has been identified, or where informal actions such as counseling, training, and assistance have not brought about acceptable performance/conduct, then a discussion should take place. The employee will be informed of his/her deficiencies and acceptable performance/conduct will be discussed. The discussion will be documented and the employee will be given a copy. A documented oral warning should normally be given in private by the supervisor to an employee as a first step in correcting minor deficiencies. (Some first offenses of a more serious nature may require stronger action.) Grievance procedures for faculty and staff do not apply to documented oral warnings. A recipient of such a warning may write a rebuttal to the warning to be included with the file.

Step II. Formal Warning. Formal warnings are to be used for recurring or more serious deficiencies or where there is future possibility of more severe action including termination or after an oral warning notice has been unsuccessful. Formal warnings are to be written to the employee and must indicate the date and specific nature of the deficiency and that more severe action may result if the employee does not correct the deficiency. The employee must be provided a copy of the warning and a copy sent to the Director of Human Resources. Grievance procedures for faculty and staff do not apply to formal warnings. A recipient of such a warning may write a rebuttal to the warning to be included with the file.

Step III. Suspension. If the employee's misconduct or poor work performance continues, the next progressive disciplinary step is a suspension without pay. The suspension will be for three (3) working days and is the final disciplinary step prior to discharge. This action is taken where previous progressive disciplinary steps have not corrected the deficiency or where the offense is of such serious nature that it may warrant discharge, pending review of the facts. Very serious offenses may be cause for immediate suspension without the steps outlined above. Notices of suspension are placed in the employee's personnel file. The supervisor and/or department head must have written approval from his/her reporting Vice-President before initiating a suspension. The employee must be provided a copy of the suspension warning and a copy sent to the Director of Human Resources.

Step IV. Dismissal. The University recognizes that dismissal for any reason is a serious matter. Termination of the employee is a last resort after all other progressive disciplinary measures have failed or if the misconduct is of such a serious nature that immediate discharge is warranted. Recommendation for dismissal should be reasonably related to the seriousness of the employee's performance/conduct in view of length of service and prior record. Recommendations for dismissal of employees are initiated by the supervisor and/or department head and approved by the reporting Vice-President. In cases of termination of any employee because of lack of funds or reorganization, the employee is to be notified at least four weeks in advance if circumstances and advance knowledge permit.

Dismissal of Tenured Faculty, Tenure-Track Faculty and Non-Tenure Track Faculty

Dismissal procedures for faculty are governed by the Institutions of Higher Learning Policies and Bylaws, Sections 403, 403.0104 and 404.02

Termination for Non-Instructional Personnel

Delta State University is an at will employer and as such reserves the right to terminate employment from any position at any time and for any reason. However, it is the policy of Delta State University to assist employees in improving job performance or correcting improper conduct to avoid termination when possible. If any employee is performing unsatisfactorily or exhibiting improper conduct, the supervisor will work with the employee in an attempt to improve conduct or performance. If disciplinary measures are imposed, it is essential that:

- Each problem be investigated so that the facts of the situation are known;
- Any action taken be primarily corrective and appropriate to the offense and applied without discrimination;
- Employees be given forewarning of the possible consequences of their actions, except in cases of misconduct so serious that employee could be expected to know that such conduct may result in discharge; and
- A record of the incident in which disciplinary action may result must be made.

DSU Termination Procedure

Refer to Delta State University's Termination/Dismissal policy for the termination procedure.

Hearing Procedure for Non-Tenure Track Faculty and Non Instructional Personnel

1. A contracted employee entitled to a hearing by virtue of a notice of intent to terminate shall have two working days from the date of receipt of the notice of intent to request in writing a hearing before a Personnel Advisory Committee.
2. The Director of Human Resources will notify the President of the request in writing for a hearing and will provide supporting documentation for the cause of termination within two working from the receipt of the request for a hearing.
3. The President will appoint a panel of five members outside of the employee's work division from a list submitted by Human Resources of eligible faculty and staff within two working days of receiving notification to appeal from the Director of Human Resources. One of the panel members will be appointed as Chair by the President. The Director of Human Resources will notify the committee appointees by email.
4. The hearing shall occur within seven working days of the receipt of the request for a hearing.
5. Based upon the evidence presented, the committee will then make a written recommendation to the President as it deems appropriate within three working days from the date of the hearing.
6. The President will provide a decision in writing to the employee who requested a hearing within five working days. A copy of the letter will be given to the Director of Human Resources and the committee Chair.
7. If the President affirms the dismissal, then termination becomes final as of the date of the President's decision. Salary ceases as of the official date of termination.

Hearings will be private. Public statements are to be avoided by all parties concerned, so that an atmosphere conducive to a fair and impartial hearing may be maintained. The committee will not be bound by strict rules of evidence, but may admit any evidence that is of probative value in determining the issues involved. The staff member will be permitted an advisor of his own choice, at his own expense, and will be afforded an opportunity to present witnesses and documentary evidence bearing on the issue involved. The advisor may not speak, question or present evidence during the hearing. The advisor may only advise the affected employee.

A different committee shall be appointed for each hearing. If the employee does not request a hearing, the employee's salary ceases at the end of the second working day following the receipt of the notice of intent to terminate.

Human Resources reserves the right to modify the appeal and hearing timeline due to extenuating circumstances as needed.

At-will employees are not eligible to file an appeal or request a hearing for termination of employment. The salary for at-will employees will cease at the time of the receipt of the notice of intent to terminate.

Harassment

POLICY STATEMENT

It is the policy of Delta State University that all employees, students, customers, contractors, and visitors to our campus enjoy a positive, respectful and productive work environment free from behavior, actions or language constituting workplace harassment.

DEFINITIONS

Harassment: as defined by the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission (EEOC), " is a form of employment discrimination that violates Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, the Age Discrimination in Employment Act of 1967, (ADEA), and the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, (ADA). Harassment is unwelcome conduct that is based on race, color, sex, religion, national origin, disability, and/or age. Workplace harassment can also be an act done by any person at the workplace intending to make the other uncomfortable. Harassment becomes unlawful where (1) enduring the offensive conduct becomes a condition of continued employment, or (2) the conduct is severe or pervasive enough to create a work environment that a reasonable person would consider intimidating, hostile, or abusive" (<http://www.eeoc.gov/types/harassment.html>).

Harassment based upon race, color, religion, sex, national origin, age, or disability is a form of discrimination and is prohibited by federal laws. Harassment based on sexual orientation or group affiliation is prohibited by DSU policy. The University, in its efforts to foster an environment of respect for the dignity and worth of all members of the university community, is committed to maintaining a work-learning environment free of harassment. Supervisors have a responsibility to ensure compliance with all applicable laws and regulations and to create a safe and pleasant workplace environment for their employees. Therefore, supervisors must be familiar with anti-harassment laws and regulations and possible consequences of violations.

According to the legal definition, harassment includes but is not limited to:

- Verbal harassment, e.g., epithets, derogatory comments or slurs;
- Physical harassment, e.g., assault, impeding or blocking movement, or any physical interference with normal work or movement, when directed at an individual;
- Visual forms of harassment, e.g., derogatory posters, cartoons, or drawings; or
- Sexual favors, e.g., unwanted sexual advances which condition an employment benefit upon an exchange of sexual favors.

Hostile Environment: A hostile environment is determined by looking at all of the circumstances including:

- the nature of the alleged hostility
- the frequency of the allegedly harassing conduct,
- its severity,
- whether it is physically threatening or humiliating, and
- whether it unreasonably interferes with an employee's work or student's academic performance

Quid Pro Quo: Unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, and other verbal and physical conduct of a sexual nature by one in a position of power or influence constitutes “quid pro quo sexual harassment” when:

- submission by an individual is made either an explicit or implicit term or condition of employment or of academic standing, or
- submission to or rejection of such conduct is used as the basis for academic or employment decisions affecting that employee or student

As defined, “quid pro quo” normally arises in the context of an authority relationship. This relationship may be direct as in the case of a supervisor and subordinate or teacher and student or it may be indirect when the harasser has the power to influence others who have authority over the victim. Same sex sexual harassment is included in the definition of this policy and the offender and victim can be either male or female.

Student: Any individual enrolled either full-time or part-time in Delta State University on or off-campus courses.

Employee: This generally includes faculty and staff employees on University paid appointments. It generally excludes students or temporary employees. For specific information on who is considered an employee, contact the Human Resources Department.

Supervisor: An employee designated by management who exercises major supervisory functions over another employee or employees. These functions include hiring, evaluating, assigning work, and disciplining employees.

PROCEDURES and RESPONSIBILITIES

Delta State University is committed to providing and promoting an atmosphere of respect for all members of the university community in which faculty and staff can realize their maximum potential in the workplace and students can engage fully in the learning process. Toward this end, all members of the university community (including faculty, staff and students) must understand that harassment will not be tolerated, and that they are required to abide by university policy. Supervisors have a responsibility to ensure compliance with all applicable laws and regulations and to create a safe and pleasant workplace environment for their employees. Therefore, supervisors must be familiar with anti-harassment laws and regulations and possible consequences of violations.

The purpose of this policy includes:

1. to serve as notice of the types of behavior which are unacceptable and will not be tolerated by DSU and
 2. to advise those who feel they have been the object of harassment of the recourses available to them.
- It is incumbent upon anyone who feels he or she has been harassed to avail themselves of this policy and procedure.

Engaging in harassment is unacceptable conduct which will not be tolerated. Any student found to have engaged in harassment will be subject to disciplinary action up to and including suspension. Any employee found to have engaged in harassment will be subject to disciplinary action up to and including termination. Managers and supervisors who know or should have known of harassment and fail to report such behavior, or fail to take immediate, appropriate action, will be subject to disciplinary action up to and including termination.

In determining whether alleged harassing conduct warrants corrective action, all relevant circumstances, including the context in which the conduct occurred, will be considered. Facts will be judged on the basis of what is reasonable to persons of ordinary sensitivity and not on the particular sensitivity or reaction of an individual.

Assurance / Protection Against Retaliation

This policy seeks to encourage students, faculty, and other employees to express freely, responsibly, and in an orderly way opinions and feelings about any problem or complaint of harassment. Retaliation against persons who report or provide information about harassment or behavior that might constitute harassment is also strictly prohibited. Any act of reprisal, including internal interference, coercion, and restraint, by a University employee or by one acting on behalf of the University, violates this policy and will result in appropriate disciplinary action.

DSU also recognizes that false accusations of harassment can have serious effects on innocent persons. If the investigation results in finding that the complainant has acted maliciously or has recklessly made false accusations, the accuser will be subject to appropriate disciplinary actions. Retaliation is a serious violation of this policy and should be reported immediately.

Confidentiality

Delta State University will do everything consistent with enforcement of this policy and with the law to protect the privacy of the individuals involved and to ensure that the complainant and the accused are treated fairly. Information about individual complaints and their disposition is considered confidential and will be shared only on a “need to know” basis. All reasonable steps will be taken to assure that the complainant and the alleged offender are protected by the highest degree of confidentiality possible. Both parties are advised, however, that once an inquiry or an investigation has begun, anonymity may be impossible.

Prompt Reporting of Allegations

Persons who believe they have been victims of harassment should report the incident(s) immediately to appropriate administrative personnel as set forth below. Delay in reporting makes it more difficult to establish the facts of a case and may contribute to the repetition of offensive behavior.

If a complainant is able and feels safe, he or she should clearly explain to the respondent that the behavior is objectionable and request that it cease. The complainant should do so as soon as possible after the incident occurs. Communication with the respondent may be in person, on the telephone, or in writing. If the behavior does not stop, or if the complainant believes some adverse employment or educational consequences may result from the discussion, he or she may utilize a documented grievance process. There are two modes for resolving complaints, the informal grievance report and the formal grievance procedure.

Informal Report

Informal means are encouraged as the beginning point, but the choice of where to begin normally rests with the complainant. The informal complaint seeks resolution through discussion and mediation facilitated by the mediator. Students will seek resolution through the Vice President for Student Affairs. Faculty and staff will seek resolution through the Director of Human Resources.

Students

The informal complaint seeks resolution through discussion and mediation facilitated by the Vice President of Student Services. Students who believe for any reason that they cannot effectively submit their informal complaint to the Vice President of Student Affairs should direct their complaint to the Provost/Vice President for Academic Affairs.

Faculty and Staff

The informal complaint seeks resolution through discussion and mediation facilitated by the Director of Human Resources or the Provost/Vice President for Academic Affairs. Faculty and staff who believe for any reason that they cannot effectively submit their informal complaint to the Director of Human Resources should direct their complaint to either the Provost/Vice President for Academic Affairs or the Vice President for Finance & Administration.

The informal complaint does not involve, at any stage, a “finding” of guilt, nor does it mandate disciplinary action. The focus of the investigation in the informal report is to stop inappropriate behavior, investigate, and facilitate resolutions, if possible.

If a grievance is pursued through this informal complaint procedure, the complainant must initiate the request. The complaint should be brought as soon as possible after the most recent incident.

The role of the Vice President of Student Affairs, the Director of Human Resources, Provost/Vice President for Academic Affairs, or Vice President for Finance and Administration will be to investigate the complaint, act as a neutral third party (mediator) and facilitate resolution. If the informal report procedure does not resolve the complaint, the complainant may initiate a formal grievance procedure. However, if the mediator(s) believe that the matter is sufficiently grave because it seems to be part of a persistent pattern, because of the nature of the alleged offense, or because the complainant seeks to have a sanction imposed, then the mediator(s) can initiate either a formal procedure or take other appropriate action.

Process

- A. The mediator(s) will hold a discussion with the complainant to determine the nature of the complaint and provide the complainant with an explanation of all provisions of the policy.
- B. The mediator(s) will meet with the respondent, assist him or her in interpreting the complaint, and request information regarding their position. The mediator(s) will facilitate communication between the parties of their respective positions. If desirable and agreeable to both parties, the mediator(s) may bring together the complainant and respondent and/or others who may be able to contribute to the resolution of the complaint.
- C. If a resolution satisfactory to both complainant and respondent is reached, DSU may consider the complaint concluded. DSU may, however, deem further investigation necessary in order to address any disciplinary issues.

If a complaint is resolved informally, no record of the complaint will be entered into either employment files or student records. However, the mediator(s) will, in the form of a confidential file memorandum, record the fact of the complaint and the resolution achieved. A copy of the memorandum will be retained in confidential files for a period of three years.

Formal Complaint

Any individual who believes that he or she has been the object of harassment may bring a formal complaint. The following sections identify appropriate reporting channels that students and employees should contact regarding harassment.

Student Complaints

1. If the formal complaint is against a faculty member, graduate assistant, or staff member in an academic or administrative department, it should be directed to the Vice President for Student Affairs. This also applies to students participating in internships, field placements, student teaching, and off campus academic settings.
2. If the formal complaint is against a student, not acting in an instructional or other employment capacity, it should be directed to the Vice President for Student Affairs.
3. Students who believe for any reason that they cannot effectively submit their formal complaint through the above channels can direct their complaint to either the Provost/Vice President of Academic Affairs.

Faculty and Staff Complaints

1. If the formal complaint is against a faculty member, other instructional personnel, or staff employed in a college or school, it should be directed to the Director of Human Resources.
2. If the formal complaint is against a staff member in a department other than a college or school, it should be directed to the Director of Human Resources.
3. If the formal complaint is against a student, not acting in an instructional or other employment capacity, it should be directed to the Vice President for Student Affairs.
4. Faculty and staff who believe for any reason they cannot effectively submit their formal complaint through the above channels can direct their complaint to either the Provost/Vice President of Academic Affairs or the Vice President for Finance & Administration.

Faculty, staff, and students who are victims of assault or harassment may seek advice and referral from the University's Counseling Services. This office, which keeps all information confidential, neither receives complaints nor conducts investigations.

Filing the Formal Complaint

The process is initiated when a written, signed complaint is submitted. When a written complaint is received, it will be treated as a formal complaint unless it specifically states that complainant desires to use the informal process. (However, any apparently legitimate complaint, regardless of its form, will be investigated and resolved to the extent deemed appropriate under the circumstances). The signed complaint should include the names of the individuals involved, a description of what occurred, and the time(s), place(s), and date(s) of the event(s).

Notice to Parties

After a formal complaint has been received, the investigator(s) will promptly notify all parties in writing of: the charge, including the names of all parties; DSU's policy and procedure on harassment, and the name(s) of the individual(s) who will conduct the formal investigation on behalf of DSU.

Formal Investigation

The investigator(s) will ask the respondent to submit a detailed statement describing what occurred at the time of the alleged incident and listing the names of any witnesses with a brief description of what each may have seen or been told. The investigator(s) will then furnish each party with a copy of the other party's statement. Within five (5) working days after receipt of the statement, each party will prepare and submit a detailed written response to the other party's statement.

The investigator(s) may conduct interviews with witnesses. If possible, statements of witnesses will be in writing and signed; however, the investigator(s) may prepare written summaries of oral statements made by the witnesses. The investigator(s) must inform each witness that his or her statement will be furnished to each of the respective parties. When the investigation is complete, the investigator(s) will prepare a written preliminary report. The report should describe the evidence in detail, have attached summaries, and other relevant documents, and contain recommendations. The complainant and respondent will have two (2) working days in which to share their response to this report with the investigator(s). The investigator(s) will consider responses and prepare a final report to be sent to the complainant, respondent, and the President.

Appeal Process / Final Decision

Either party may respond to the final report of the investigator(s) by written letter to the President. This letter should contain arguments as to why the recommendation(s) of the investigator(s) should be modified, accepted, or rejected. The President shall consider both the report of the investigator(s) and the letters of the respective parties. The decision of the President is final. The complainant and the respondent will be notified of the outcome of the investigation.

False Allegations

DSU recognizes that the question of whether a particular course of conduct constitutes harassment requires a factual determination. DSU also recognizes that false accusations of harassment can have serious effects on innocent persons. If the investigation results in finding that the complainant has acted maliciously or has recklessly made false accusations, the accuser will be subject to appropriate disciplinary actions.

Record Keeping

All written records generated through the use of the formal complaint procedure shall be kept for a period of three years in respective student's records or the employee's records in the Human Resources Department.

Responsibilities of Delta State University Supervisors

All members of the university community have a general responsibility to contribute in a positive way to a university environment that is free of harassment. Supervisory personnel, however, have additional responsibilities. Supervisory personnel are not only responsible for educating and sensitizing employees in their units about harassment issues, but they are also directed to take all appropriate steps to prevent and stop harassment in their areas of responsibility. Supervisory personnel who are contacted by an individual seeking to file a complaint about harassment in their department or area of responsibility shall assist the complainant in contacting the appropriate personnel.

Rights and Responsibilities of the Respondent

1. The right to have an opportunity to fully respond to the complaint.
2. The right to have the complaint investigated and resolved in a timely manner.
3. The responsibility not to take any actions against the complainant that could be considered retaliation. There should be no contact between the supervisor and complainant during the course of action.
4. The right to know the steps taken to resolve the complaint. Investigators will fully inform the individual on the status of the investigation.
5. The responsibility of providing as much information as possible as requested by the investigator(s) in order to provide a fair and just resolution to the complaint.
6. The responsibility of maintaining confidentiality. The nature of the complaint should not be disclosed to persons not involved.

Delta State University implements this drug and alcohol policy and conducts a testing program pursuant to Mississippi Code Ann. § 71-7-1, et seq., entitled "Drug and Alcohol Testing of Employees" (the Act), and you are hereby advised of the existence of said Act.

Who is Covered?

Delta State University reserves the right to test potential employees and/or current employees for alcohol and/or control substances pursuant to the said Act. This applies to all employees of Delta State University. An employee is defined as any faculty, adjunct, staff, hourly, student, contract, or at-will employee who performs services for compensation. A job applicant is any person who has applied for work with Delta State University and anyone who has a job offer contingent upon passing a drug or alcohol test.

When Testing is Permitted

Drug and alcohol testing of employees and applicants is permitted only as explicitly authorized by the Act. Testing can only be done under a written drug and alcohol testing policy that meets statutory requirements and must be conducted by an accredited or licensed testing laboratory.

Drug and alcohol testing is permitted only in the following circumstances:

- Job applicant testing. If a job applicant has received a conditional job offer, the employer may require or ask that applicant to undergo testing, as long as all applicants who receive conditional job offers for the same position are required or asked to undergo testing. Any employee who has been offered a position that operates machinery or drives vehicles will be required to undergo a drug and alcohol test.

- Reasonable suspicion testing. An employer may require an employee to take a test if there is a reasonable suspicion that the employee is under the influence of drugs or alcohol; has violated the employer's written rules on drug or alcohol use, possession, sale, or transfer while on the job, at the job site, or while operating the employer's vehicle, machinery or equipment; has sustained a personal injury or caused another employee to sustain a personal injury; has caused a work-related accident; or was operating a vehicle or other equipment involved in a work - related accident.

- Association with minors. Employees whose primary job responsibilities include association with minors may be subject to drug and alcohol testing procedures.
- Treatment program testing. If an employee has been referred to a drug and/or alcohol abuse rehabilitation program, the employer may require the employee to submit to testing without notice during the treatment period and as a follow-up to such rehabilitation.
- Previous positive confirmed drug and alcohol test. If an employee has a previous positive confirmed test result while employed, the University may require an employee to submit to a drug and/or alcohol test for one year.

The University may test for the following prohibited substances: marijuana, cocaine, opiates, amphetamines (including methamphetamines), phencyclidine, alcohol or other controlled substances set forth in Schedules I through V of Section 202 of the Controlled Substances Act (21 U.S.C 812) and Schedules I through V of Miss. Code Ann. § 41-29-113 through §41-29-121.

Employees shall report to their supervisor, or to the Department of Human Resources, any use of a prescription or non-prescription medication that could adversely affect their job performance. It is each employee's responsibility to check with a physician regarding whether any medication may adversely affect performance. Any such information will be kept confidential and shared with appropriate Delta State University personnel only on a need-to-know basis. Employees working in the Police Department, Facilities Management, Child Development Center, Admissions, School of Nursing, and other safety-security sensitive positions may be transferred or placed on leave in accordance with University leave provisions for so long as the employee may be adversely affected by a medication.

An employee or job applicant to be tested shall be given (1) a medication disclosure form to permit the employee or job applicant to disclose any non-prescription or prescription medications that have been taken within forty-five (45) days prior to being tested, and (2) a statement that the form shall be submitted directly to the employer's designated Medical Review Officer, ensuring that no person or entity has access to the information disclosed on the form other than the Medical Review Officer.

Consequences

Applicants who refuse to cooperate in a drug test or who receive a confirmed positive drug test will not be hired and will not be allowed to reapply/retest in the future.

Employees who use an illegal drug in violation of this policy may be disciplined and/or terminated. If an employee refuses to submit to a drug and/or alcohol test pursuant to this policy, the University will take appropriate corrective or disciplinary actions, up to and including termination.

An employee who tests positive with respect to an unlawful drug or alcohol may be temporarily suspended or transferred to another position. Once the test is confirmed according to the Act, the University may take appropriate corrective or disciplinary action, up to and including termination. An employee who receives a positive confirmed drug or alcohol test result may contest the accuracy of that result or explain it. The initial and confirmation tests will be at the University's expense, but any additional costs for testing will be borne by the employee.

If the University determines that discipline or discharge is not necessary or appropriate following a positive confirmed test result, information on opportunities for assessment and rehabilitation will be made to the employee.

Confidentiality

All information, interviews, reports, statements, memoranda and test results, written or otherwise, received by the University through its drug and alcohol testing program are confidential communications and may not be used or received in evidence, obtained in discovery, or disclosed in any public or private proceedings, except in accordance with the Act and these regulations. Any information obtained by the University pursuant to the Act and these regulations shall be the property of the employer. The University shall not release to any person other than the employee or job applicant, or employer medical, supervisory or other personnel, as designated by the University on a need to know basis, information related to drug and alcohol test results unless: (a) The employee or job applicant has expressly, in writing, granted permission for the University to release such information; (b) it is necessary to introduce a positive confirmed test result into an arbitration proceeding pursuant an administrative hearing under applicable state or local law, or a judicial proceeding, provided that information is relevant to the hearing or proceeding, or the information must be disclosed to a federal or state agency or other unit of the state or United States government as required under law, regulation or order, or in accordance with compliance requirements of a state or federal government contract, or disclosed to a drug abuse rehabilitation program for the purpose of evaluation or treatment of an employee; (c) there is a risk to public health or safety that can be minimized or prevented by the release of such information; provided, however, that unless such risk is immediate, a court order permitting the release shall be obtained prior to the release of the information.

The confidentiality provisions provided for by the Act shall not apply to other parts of an employee's or job applicant's personnel or medical files. If an employee refuses to sign a written consent form for release of information to persons as permitted in the Act, the University shall not be barred from discharging or disciplining the employee.

Information and records relating to positive test results, drug and alcohol dependencies, and legitimate medical explanations provided to the MRO should be kept confidential to the extent required by law and maintained in secure files separate from normal personnel files. Such records and information may be disclosed among managers and supervisors on a need-to-know basis and may also be disclosed when relevant to a grievance, charge, claim or other legal proceeding initiated by or on behalf of an employee or applicant.

Code Ann. § 41-29-113 through §41-29-121.

Controlled Substance and Alcohol Employee Testing:

Reasonable Suspicion

Reasonable suspicion testing is based on a reasonable belief that an employee is using or has used drugs or alcohol in violation of this policy drawn from specific facts and reasonable inferences and may be based upon the following:

1. Observable phenomena, such as direct observation of drug and alcohol use and/or the physical symptoms or manifestations of being under the influence of a drug or alcohol while on University premises;
2. Abnormal conduct or erratic behavior while at work, absenteeism, tardiness or deterioration in work performance;
3. A report of drug use provided by reliable and credible sources and which has been independently corroborated;
4. Evidence that an individual has tapered with a drug and alcohol test during employment with the University;
5. Information that an employee has caused or contributed to an accident while on or using University property; and
6. Evidence that an employee is involved in the use, possession, sale, solicitation or transfer of drugs while working or while on the University premises or operating a University vehicle, machinery, or equipment.

All employees of the University may be subject to reasonable suspicion drug and alcohol testing. Prior to any drug or alcohol testing for reasonable suspicion, the employee's supervisor must coordinate with the Department of Human Resources and should notify the Department of Human Resources of the need for the testing. When reasonable suspicion exists, the individual who made the observations should submit a written record to the Department of Human Resources documenting the basis for the suspicion. A Reasonable Suspicion Record Form can be found on the Department of Human Resources website. If the observed behavior occurs during a shift when the Department of Human Resources is closed, the employee is to be taken to Delta State University's authorized specimen collection facility for testing at that time. The Department of Human Resources is to be notified as soon as the office reopens. The Director of Human Resources, or a designated representative, will review the individual circumstances with the employee's department head and recommend appropriate action.

Pre-Employment

Prior to beginning work in positions within the Police Department, Facilities Management, Child Development Center, Admissions, School of Nursing and other designated departments or units, employees will be tested for drugs and/or alcohol. New employee offers are contingent upon completion of drug and/or alcohol tests with results revealing the absence of drug use. Hiring departments will coordinate with the Department of Human Resources to schedule required tests. Any potential employee who refuses to submit to a test or tests positive for drugs and/or alcohol will not be hired. The offer of employment will be withdrawn unless documentation is provided by the employee to the Director of Human Resources and approved by the University's designated Medical Review Officer justifying the presence of the drug and/or alcohol.

Motor Vehicle Drivers and Vehicular Accident

Employees who operate university vehicles with a commercial driver's license are subject to the United States Department of Transportation and/or Mississippi Department of Transportation regulations. These employees are subject to drug and alcohol testing in compliance with the Omnibus Transportation Employee Testing Act of 1991. Consequences

Applicants who refuse to cooperate in a drug test or who receive a confirmed positive drug test will not be hired and will not be allowed to reapply/retest in the future.

Employees who use an illegal drug in violation of this policy may be disciplined and/or terminated. If an employee refuses to submit to a drug and/or alcohol test pursuant to this policy, the University will take appropriate corrective or disciplinary actions, up to and including termination.

Abuse of Computers and Network Systems

POLICY STATEMENT

All members of the Delta State University community must use electronic communications in a responsible manner. The University may restrict the use of its computers and network systems for electronic communications, in response to complaints presenting evidence of violations of other university policies or codes, or state or federal laws. Specifically, the university reserves the right to limit access to its networks through university-owned or other computers, and to remove or limit access to material posted on university-owned computers. The university reserves the right to limit access to its networks through university-owned or other computers, and to remove or limit access to material posted on university-owned computers.

DEFINITIONS

College/Unit Policy Officer: A person with responsibility for issues having broad-based policy implications for students, faculty, and staff in the college/unit; an Associate Dean or similar position.

Education Records: Records specifically related to a student and maintained by an educational institution or a party acting on its behalf. The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 protects these records.

Electronic Communications: The use of computers and network systems in the communicating or posting of information or material by way of electronic mail, bulletin boards, or other such electronic tools.

Network Systems: Includes voice, video and data networks, switches, routers, wireless devices, and storage devices.

System or Network Administrator: A university employee responsible for managing the operation or operating system environments of computers or network systems, respectively.

University Computers and Network Systems (University Systems): Computers, networks, servers, and other similar devices that are administered by the university and for which the university is responsible. Throughout this policy, the shortened term "university systems" is used to mean all university computers and network systems.

PROCEDURES and RESPONSIBILITIES

The use of computers or network systems in no way exempts any member of the University community from the normal requirements of ethical or legal behavior in the Delta State community. In particular, data, software, and computer capacity have value and must be treated accordingly. Use of a computer and network system that is shared by many users imposes certain additional obligations.

Legitimate use of a computer or network system does not extend to whatever an individual is capable of doing with it. Although some rules are built into the system itself, these restrictions cannot limit completely what an individual can do or can see. In any event, each member of the community is responsible for his/her actions whether or not rules are built in, and whether or not they can be circumvented.

Members of the University community are expected to follow certain principles of behavior in making use of computers and network systems, in particular, to respect, and to observe policies and procedures governing:

- the privacy of or other restrictions placed upon data or information stored in or transmitted across computers and network systems, even when that data or information is not securely protected;
- an owner's interest in proprietary software or other assets pertaining to computers or network systems, even when such software or assets are not securely protected;
- the finite capacity of computers or network systems by limiting use of computers and network systems so as not to interfere unreasonably with the activity of other users.

Members of the University community also are expected to follow all other policies, rules, or procedures established to manage computers or network systems, including those established to control access to, or the use of, computer data, files, or other information.

Nuisance Email and Messages

Nuisance email or other online messages such as chain letters, obscene, harassing, or other unwelcome messages are prohibited. Those individuals connected with the distribution of such messages will be subject to the violation policies set forth in this policy. Violation may include immediate suspension of computer account and network access pending investigation of circumstances and may lead to eventual revocation of privileges. Serious violations will be referred directly to the appropriate University or outside authorities; unauthorized use of University computing facilities can be a criminal offense. The penalties may be as severe as suspension or dismissal from the University and/or criminal prosecution.

Bandwidth

Bandwidth usage among students has increasingly become a nation-wide concern for everyone in American colleges and universities. On the one hand, faculty and administrative units must have ample bandwidth with which to pursue the mission of the institution. On the other hand, students, for whom Internet services have become both the means of education and entertainment, have good reasons also to be on line, especially when the university is their home.

Delta State University has proved no exception to the national trend. In order to accommodate the administration and faculty as well as dormitory users, DSU systems engineers reserve the right to make decisions to reduce dormitory bandwidth to a maximum percentage of university network capacity when such need arises. This restriction will be done with the knowledge and consent of the President's Cabinet and under the supervision of the Executive Assistant to the President and Chief Information Officer.

The policy on “Abuse of Computers and Network Systems” explicitly states that the university, recognizing “the finite capacity of computers or network system,” may do so “by limiting use of computers and network systems so as not to interfere unreasonably with the activity of other users.” Please note, using bandwidth for legal purposes is not a violation of university policy, but university policy does require that the Office of Information Technology allocate that bandwidth usage appropriately and fairly.

All network devices (hubs, routers, switches, wireless access points) shall be managed by the Office of Information Technology (OIT) as property of Delta State University (DSU). The OIT will propose a wireless network plan to be followed by the campus community. Devices that are installed, other than those installed by OIT, may be subjected to being shut down. The OIT must maintain the integrity of the network in order to manage the quality of the service. Therefore “rogue” hubs, wireless APs, and switches will not be permitted.

Violations

- Violators of this policy will be dealt with according to the details outlined in the University’s Responsible Use of Electronic Communications policy.
- Those who cannot accept these standards of behavior will be denied use of Delta State computers or network systems.
- Violators may also be subject to penalties under University regulations and under state and federal laws.
